The Sierra Nevada Film Festival going strong as it enters its second decade in the Sierra Nevada!

All the Time in the World | sponsored by OARS

In this deeply personal documentary, a family searches for a new perspective by leaving the comforts of home and taking their three children to live in the Yukon wilderness for nine months. They live remotely over the long Yukon winter in a small cabin with no road access, no electricity, no running water, no internet, no TV and not a single clock or watch.

Bluebird Man | Black Bart Playhouse | March 14, 2015

Bluebird Man is the story of 91-year-old Al Larson, a self-taught conservation hero who has committed the last 35 years of his life to saving North America's bluebirds. Breathtaking scenery, intimate conversations and stunning footage of all three species of bluebird create a powerful film with the goal of inspiring our next generation of citizen scientists.

Emptying the Skies | Sponsored by Dr. Dorit Eliou

Based on a magazine essay written by noted best-selling novelist Jonathan Franzen for 'The New Yorker' and widely republished around the world, 'Emptying the Skies' chronicles the rampant poaching of migratory songbirds in southern Europe. Songbird populations have been drastically declining for several decades, and a number of species face extinction imminently. The film explores the wonder of these tiny globe-flying marvels, millions of which are unlawfully slaughtered each year for large sums on the black market, and follows an intrepid squad of pan-European bird-lovers who risk their lives waging a secret war against poachers, disrupting illegal trapping and freeing as many birds as possible. Jonathan Franzen is executive producer of and featured in the film.

Nobody's River | Sponsored by Holly and Rodger Orman

Over 70 days, from Mongolia to Russia, and traveling 5,000 kilometers along the Amur River, a team of four women documented the challenges, triumphs, and often hilarious adventures of an incredible journey. Their tales are of misadventures, pristine river valleys, Mongolian Moonshine, Siberian train rides, the Russian industrial complex, and a river as big as the ocean. This film, from NRS and Wazee Motion Pictures, documents their trip along one of the few remaining free-flowing rivers of the world and through the complexities of love and loss. From their hilarious antics to deeply human struggles, these ladies shine a light on the soul of internal and external exploration. nobodysriver.org

Paper City

The streets are paved with paper. This delicate animation follows the charming rise and fall of a fragile metropolis. Captured by an unseen helicopter, the narrative unfolds through winding roads, erupting forests and emerging mountains. Paper City grows in one fluid take, with skyscrapers rising from the page – only to crumble, wrinkle and gently crease back into the ground.

A World Beyond the World

Using text adapted from Robert Marshalls “Alaska Wilderness: Exploring the Brooks Range” (1929) and images from Expedition Arguk (2013), “The World Beyond the World” aims to celebrate that most ancient and sublime of human pleasures: moving through a mysterious, beautiful, and unknown landscape.
